New Website Complete!

The LCFRW Public Relations Committee has successfully designed our new website. Please take a minute to check us out at www.lowercapefearrepublicanwomen.com. It will take a week or two for google to list us. We will be letting our old website address expire at the end of its term (August, we think). You'll also notice that we are streamlining our communications in order to brand our name. Our new website design mirrors our postcards, and E-News Alerts. We are also on Twitter. Follow us at lowercapefearrrw.
